

Dick Clark's American Bandstand Diner Schaumburg, Illinois and Auburn Hills, Michigan

Client: Dick Clark Restaurants, Inc.
Architect: AAD
Role: General Contractor

International Contractors, Inc. was chosen to build the first Dick Clark Restaurants in the Midwest. The locations chosen for the diner were Woodfield Shopping Center in Schaumburg, Illinois and Auburn Hills, Michigan.

ICI completed both projects on-time, despite delays due to permit processing and municipal and mall approval in Auburn Hills, Michigan. Our ability to coordinate the subcontractors involved in the project was the key to remaining on schedule.

The owner, Dick Clark Restaurants, Inc. was thrilled to be able to meet the originally scheduled opening date. In order to accomplish this feat, ICI worked vigilantly around any conflict and through skillful coordination and scheduling was able to condense the original construction schedule by four weeks.

Dick Clark's American Bandstand Diner featured furnishings, decor and memorabilia reminiscent of the '60's, Classic American food was served.
